New York Again Welcomes You

You are cordially invited to attend the Metropolitan New York Numismatic Convention at the Hotel Statler on the first week-end in May. Except for those of the American Numismatic Association, this will be the third numismatic convention since 1955 and the fifth metropolitan convention.

New York is a delightful place in the springtime. Nature lovers will take pleasure in seeing the early blooming flowers. Sport fans will be able to see a baseball game or go fishing. The ladies may feast their eyes by going window shopping. Sightseers and those historically-minded can see the hundreds of places of interest all around the area, either by traveling to them, or by seeing them from the Empire State Building, Rockefeller Center Building roof or from the boat that circles Manhattan Island. Theatre goers may see shows of their choice, and radio and TV fans can see how the programs are performed.

The numismatist is interested in coins, medals and currency, either to see what he has heard about, or to buy what he wishes for his collection. To satisfy these interests, we shall have exhibits by members of the local clubs, a dealers' bourse, and an auction sale of the choice material that is listed in this catalogue. One of the important functions of a convention is that people with the same interests may get together and obtain from each other information that is of special interest and pleasure to them. With so many collectors in this area, this object should be more than satisfied.

The year 1958 is an important one numismatically. The American Numismatic Society is about to celebrate its centennial. The New York Numismatic Club is fifty years old and both The Bronx Coin Club and the New Jersey Numismatic Society will celebrate their twenty-fifth anniversaries. Metropolitan collectors feel proud to have these organizations in their midst and extend to them their heartiest congratulations.

The committee members are exerting every effort to make this convention a success. While The Bronx Coin Club and the Bergen County Coin Club are named this year as sponsors, they have the cooperation of each of the many clubs in the metropolitan area in contributing to this success.

Set aside May 2, 3 and 4th this year for the convention and come to the Hotel Statler with your wife and family. Those wishing to stay at the Statler should make reservations directly with the hotel. Come as early as you wish and prepare for a week end of enjoyment.
